Financing in the Business Name

If you're looking to finance commercial vehicles in the name of your business without affecting your personal credit, Ally features two solutions.

Third-Party Guaranty

When you want to buy or lease vehicles in the name of your business but need to secure additional financing, you may act as a third-party guarantor. This allows you to keep your name off the title and any debt off your personal credit record.

Business name only

If your business qualifies for financing without the owner's guaranty, you can obtain financing in the business name only. This gives you the ability to save your personal credit for other use as well as:

- Build credit in your business name
- Protect yourself from liability related to the operation of the vehicle
