$500 to $25,000 credit line

Although it's a secured Visa, Wells Fargo will require your personal SSN along with your EIN#.

Poor personal credit is usually not a factor for approval.

The screenshot shows the Wells Fargo website interface for the Business Secured Credit Card. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Wells Fargo logo, menu items for Personal, Small Business (selected), and Commercial, and a search bar. Below the navigation bar, there are links for Banking, Loans and Credit, Merchant Services, and Payroll and Other Services. The main heading is "Wells Fargo Business Secured Credit Card". To the right of the heading are links for Print, Share (Facebook, Twitter, and a plus icon), and a "How do I..." section with links for "See credit options", "Find a credit product", "Apply for a secured business card", "Set up automatic payments", "Notify Wells Fargo of travel plans", and "Find frequently asked questions". Below the heading is an image of the credit card and a list of features: "New customer offer: Earn 1.5% cash back; $0 annual rewards fee¹", "$500 to $25,000 credit line", "Zero liability protection", and "No foreign transaction fee". There are two columns: "Best For" and "Other Features". The "Best For" column lists "Jump starting your business", "Building credit", and "Rebuilding credit". The "Other Features" column lists "$25 annual fee per card", "Up to 10 employee cards", and "Spending reports available online". At the bottom of the "Best For" and "Other Features" columns are expandable sections: "How it Works", "Fees and Rates", "Learn How to Upgrade to Unsecured Credit", and "Business Rewards". On the right side, there is an "Application status" section with links for "Check your application status" and "Learn more about application status". At the bottom right, there is a "Still have questions?" section with links for "Call Us", "Let Us Contact You", "Find a Location", and "Make an Appointment".
